Please note that now there are two options for Lab selection in Research Scholar program (for Ph.D.) at National Institute of Animal Biotechnology .

Option1. Laboratory/guide will be allotted by choice of student depending on exam based ranking after the course work.

Option2. After selection, student can opt (only one option) for one lab and convey to us. If the lab in charge also finds interest in his/her candidature, he/she may be directly placed to his / her laboratory, otherwise student will be automatically placed in other category where lab choice depends on exam based ranking of the course work.

Last date for receiving application is extended till June 26, 2017 Monday.

Interviews will be held tentatively on 12th July 2017.
